

I CLAIM

1. A suspender which will be used between an upper and lower garment comprising:
  - a. one strap or a plurality of straps made of a flexible or elastic material.
  - b. a strap slide or other means attached to said straps enabling said straps to be adjusted in length.
  - c. a device at the distal ends of said straps enabling said straps to secure said suspender to said upper and lower garment.
2. A suspender as claimed in Claim 1 comprising:
  - a. a strap slide or other means attached to said straps enabling said straps to be removed and replaced with straps of different colors made of flexible or elastic material.
3. A suspender as claimed in Claim 1 comprising:
  - a. a decorative piece which is attached to the suspender by means of straps, clips or other removable devices to enable the embodiment to be removed and replaced by other embodiments.